F.A.Q.S

Frequently Asked Questions

1. Do I have to be vaccinated?

Vaccinated cruises are available for guests who have received their final dose of an approved COVID-19 vaccine at least 14 days prior to the sailing day and have proof of vaccination, along with a negative PCR COVID-19 test taken within 48 hours of sailing. We will continue to monitor vaccination requirements an communicate any changes.

- Additionally, the CDC has strongly recommended that individuals obtain a COVID-19 booster vaccination, when eligible. Should the CDC definition of fully vaccinated evolve to require the booster shot, our policy will adapt accordingly. It is also always possible that certain destinations could define a fully vaccinated guest as one who is current with a booster shot.
- IMPORTANT NOTE: Effective with sailings departing as of March 1, guests who are up to date with their vaccines may take their test within three days prior to sailing. Up to date means a person has received all recommended COVID-19 vaccinations, including any booster dose(s), when eligible. If a guest is fully vaccinated but not up to date with their vaccines (i.e., is eligible for a booster but has not received one), they must take their pre-cruise COVID-19 test within two days prior to sailing.
- Unvaccinated guests cannot go ashore in the ports of call on their own. Guests may only debark in the ports of call if booked on a Carnival-sponsored bubble tour. In the event you choose not to purchase a bubble tour, bubble tours are sold out, or cancelled due to weather, unvaccinated guests will have to remain on board. Proof of travel insurance coverage for each unvaccinated guest is required at check-in.

2. Is Airfare & Airport Transportation included?

Once the initial deposit has been made and your cabin has been assigned, we can add airfare and airport transportation to your package. Airfare can also be booked seperately through your airline of choice.
